

"Heat in the Kitchen Lunches" Sunday 2nd December

As previously advised our first Heat in the Kitchen Lunch is Sunday the 2nd of December. We have organised two excellent speaker's for the day.

Andrew Rule, who is the co-writer of the underbelly book series. Andrew has broken or covered some of the most notorious Australian stories, including the recent Jill Meagher tragedy. His work includes critically-acclaimed accounts of murder and its detection, and so far he has survived to tell the tale.

Alan Wickes, former Frankston, Seaford, MPFL and Collingwood player; Coached Frankston from 1962-65 (Frankston joined the VFA in 1966) and Seaford 1966-1968. Wickes played cricket on the turf at Cranbourne Road with the Blacks in the Dandenong & District Cricket Association from 1955 to 1958. Alan is also a former VFA president.

Alan is now part of 'Proudly Frankston' – Another Frankston Dolphins Initiative

- The purpose is to bring together the people and organisations of Frankston in acknowledgement of the City and its many fine assets
- Team sports are the catalyst for good behaviour and City pride and we believe we can do more influence and promote better outcomes for our City
- Our young people are our biggest asset and engaging with them through their sporting clubs is the opportunity to maximise our asset
- The Frankston Park Development will bring to the City an entertainment facility which the Community can embrace and help retain trading dollars and profits
- PF is about the Community and the Dolphin profile is being used as the catalyst to show the lead and help bring the vision to reality!

Gay's taste sensation for this luncheon will include

- Flathead tails in tempura batter, prawns wrapped in potato string, crumbed calamari, fresh peeled king prawns with wasabi mayo, 2 x oysters Kilpatrick
- Slow cooked roast beef with a seeded mustard crust

With Myrtaceae award winning wines to complement Gay's menu, we have chosen their Pinot Noir & Chardonnay.

On the cricket field we see this as a huge transition year, where the emphasis will be on younger and less experienced players, in the attempt to fill the legacy left by Nick Jewell and Darren Groves. We would like to see MORE PLAYER PARENTS, FRIENDS AND RELATIVES to attend this lunch to support the Heat. The firsts and seconds will be taking on arch rival Geelong in a 20over game.

As Andrews lunch last time was fully subscribed we are limiting the bookings to eight tables of ten
